Frissora, M.D. is a Gastroenterologist at The Weill Cornell Medical Center. She earned her B.A. from Cornell University and graduated from the College Arts & Sciences. She earned her medical degree from Cornell University Medical College. Dr. Frissora has always been and was fascinated by Ernest Hemingway's use of work. He cut words, sliced sentences, and left a lot for the readers to fill in on their own. Being a talented writer, her professors made her promise to continue writing. "You have to keep writing - you have so much to say," professors were struck by the author's ability to capture an experience: "I feel like I was there," "I felt my hand on his heart," "That gave me chills." Poetry sometimes motivates people to change their behavior. It can be used as a tool for high stress situations - such as handling medical emergencies (A Great Win) or to enhance sports performance (Champions). Dr. Frissora covers a wide range of topics from beauty and sadness, to the trivial heartbreak of a match. She provides basic tools so that you can write your own poetry for your family or just for yourself. The poems come to the author in complete vignettes, but every writer is different. How to Write Lyrical Limericks & Poems Thammy Clark 2014-01-30 How to Write Lyrical Limericks & Poems That Pay Has anyone ever made verse pay during their lifetime? Yes. Robert William Service - The Poet of the Yukon may be the only living writer to have made more than $1,000,000 out of writing verse." That quote is from the Scots/Canadian writer of "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" and many other stirring verses. His was the poetry of a man who bought it in droves. If your main ambition as a verse writer is to make money (rather than seeking literary fame) take a leaf from Robert's book - learn to write for regular folk. Words and rhythms that stir emotion, subjects that matter, strings - "make 'em laugh, make 'em cry" you are an entertainer... a weaver of magic moments... a writer to be remembered, recited and quoted. It is my hope that some readers of this book will one day be able to make the same for yourself. Whatever your outcome, you will have a lot of fun trying. The pleasure of creative writing can be a reward in itself but if you want a wider audience it pays to know the techniques and tools of the trade. In Emotional Explosions, author Karen Linda Brown Glotzer seeks to demonstrate that poetry can be used to clearly convey emotions and that it can be enjoyed, shared, and easily understood. This collection divides verses into sections that focus on a single topic close to Glotzer's heart. Times includes a mangle of subjects such as childhood experiences, motherhood, friendship, animals, therapy, and death, including some humor and silliness along the way.
