Saint John Henry Newman Robert C. Christie 2020-01-17 This volume of essays, sponsored by the Newman Association of America, serves to identify, preserve, and promote the legacy of John Henry Newman. It argues that eleven major elements of Newman's life and work speak to us today, and, in fact, are very important resources for believers in their confrontation with the challenges of the secular world. They also resonate loudly to a church in crisis both internally and externally in its confrontation with that world. Ten authors, included among them some of the world's most prominent Catholic scholars, as well as several emerging ones, address various aspects of Newman's legacy on a host of subjects. These include the nature and challenges of faith both for believers and non-believers, with no religious affiliations, an analysis of what and how we know things, particularly bearing on religious matters, the experience of conversions, the place and meaning of relationships with God, especially those of family, home, and friendships, the indispensable role of the church in our drive for holiness, the nature and importance of education and its personal dimension, and the application of history in studying and learning from Newman's legacy. Those who have questions and who think about these subjects, academics and non-academics alike, will find much to read in these essays.

The Truth Will Make You Free Robert F. Leavitt 2019-02-07 2020 Association of Catholic Publishers first place award in theology The available literature on the new evangelization is wide-ranging and focused on issues of ecclesial renewal. In The Truth Will Make You Free, Fr. Robert Leavitt adopts a different approach to the subject. From Paul VI until Pope Francis, the nature and challenge of secularism have become a recurring factor in the agenda of the new evangelization, yet often without historical perspective and philosophical balance. Few popular works bother to examine the scope, as this book does, what the history, nature, and implications of the secular age are for revitalizing ministry in an age of optional belief. Written for the interested layperson, seminarian, and pastor, The Truth Will Make You Free is an indispensable catechism for rethinking our understanding of the secular world in proclaiming the Gospel of Christ.

The Cambridge Companion to American Catholicism Margaret M. McGuinness 2021-04-30 This Companion provides a comprehensive overview of American Catholicism's historical development and distinctive features. The essays - all specially commissioned for this volume - highlight the inner diversity of American Catholicism and trace the impact of American Catholics on all aspects of American life, including education, social welfare, politics, and intellectual life. The volume also addresses topics of contemporary concern, such as gender and sexuality, arts and culture, social activism, and the role of Black, Latinx, Asian-American, and cultural Catholics. Taken together, the essays in this Companion provide context for understanding American Catholicism as it is currently experienced and lived. The volume situates present-day developments and debates within their longer trajectory.

All the Beautiful Things Beth Doherty 2020-03-01 Taking as its theme 'beauty from ashes' the beautiful image from Isaiah 61:3, All the Beautiful Things: Finding Truth, Beauty and Goodness in the Catholic Church is written at a time when the Catholic Church and its people are reeling from years of scandal. This book asks questions throughout and attempts to answer them based on the faith, but it also engages a wide range of conversation partners. These answers are the result of interviews, surveys and conversations with people who love the Church, but seek reform and renewal. 'Coeur', a cry of the heart to try to reclaim what has been lost. It is a taking up of a cross and walking on a journey paved with all manner of challenge. In the end, the author's hope is to help us rediscover the truth, beauty and goodness that still exist within Catholicism.

De 24 wetten van het verlossende huis Robert Greene 2004 Beschrijving van een succesvolle verleidingsstrategie aan de hand van vele voorbeelden uit de geschiedenis en literatuur. Filling Our Father's House Shaun McAfee 2015-04-06 Converts often bring to the Catholic Church an evangelical zeal that can renew and energize even the most tired and battle weary among us. But is hurting for enthusiastic voices to proclaim her teachings on truth and morals. In these pages, Shaun McAfee, a convert from Evangelical Protestantism shows how we can take the best of the new and use them to reach countless souls with the fullness of the Christian Faith. With Shaun's help, you'll learn simple ways you can make the visitor in your parish more at home, how to spread the Faith, simple ways to integrate daily Scripture reading into your life, why small groups are important for spiritual enrichment, and how to communicate with souls who have never come to the Catholic Church. The simple steps Shaun outlines in these pages will also show priests and lay leaders how to more effectively engage modern society with our Catholic Faith. Our society is secularism. It's eating away at the sense of God, and the emptying of the pews in our own parishes is its natural effects. What we need is a renewal of enthusiasm for the battle against secularism. This is a beginner's guide to getting us back on track.

Looking to St. Francis John Bohrer 2014-06-01 Even before he died, his contemporaries honored Francis, the poor man of Assisi, as a saint. He has lost none of his appeal for people today—Francis has taken the name of this great saint. That's because the message of Francis for us is quite simply the message of Jesus. This book looks not only at Francis' life and times but also helps us to take on his spirituality in dealing with the challenges in our lives and in the world today. The authors shed light on Francis' love of poverty, his rejection of violence, his call to reform the Church, to suffering, and his sacramental vision of life—all the while challenging us to see how fully living out the radical call of the gospel gives us joy and answers the problems besetting our world.

What We Have Seen and Heard Michael E. Connors 2017-05-11 One of the chief challenges of the Second Vatican Council was to reclaim the meaning of baptism, especially as the foundation of the Christian mission in the world. This book reinvigorates an important conversation.

Seriously, God Michael White 2021-09-24 A friend's child dies; a parent gets a cancer diagnosis; your spouse loses their job. Sometimes life and God's plan don't make sense and we end up feeling angry. In Seriously, God?, Fr. Michael White and Tom Corcoran explore the denial, doubt, and betrayal we experience when we face hardship, pain, and grief, and they encourage us to lean into our pain and to take each circumstance as a chance to learn more about God. ChurchMoney Michael White 2019-09-13 The Pew Research Center recently reported that 26 percent of Catholics are giving less because of the sex abuse crisis and reports of misconduct by bishops. That makes the already difficult task of raising money for churches and bishop's appeals much more challenging. Rev. Michael White and Tom Corcoran—award-winning authors of the series—know from twenty years leading Church of the Nativity in Timonium, Maryland, that it's no fun working in a parish struggling to pay the bills. Does this sound familiar? In ChurchMoney, White and Corcoran show you how to learn the basic skills you need to discover that true success in raising funds comes from the incredibly freeing approach that connects giving to discipleship. The two share their stories of failure. They tell us what they learned to meet the real financial challenges of their mission. They offer the practical wisdom and inspiration you need to tackle the thorny matter of raising money for your Catholic parish. White and Corcoran share the lessons, facts, habits, and great ideas they've implemented from some of the most successful and vibrant churches in the United States. They provide a proven plan for raising money in parishes. It's readily adaptable, firmly rooted in the reality of leading a Catholic parish, based on the Bible, and finessed with the best advice of communication. You will read stories of embarrassing failure and exhilarating success in tripling a budget and running three extraordinarily successful capital campaigns over a ten-year period including the campaign leading to the construction of $16 million sanctuary built debt free. They have increased staff fourfold and significantly raised salaries and increased staff benefits while expanding both locally and internationally.

Preaching as Spiritual Leadership Michael E. Connors, CSC 2021-05-15 In this unique resource, Fr. Michael E. Connors gathers and expertly guides the collective wisdom of experienced preachers and homilists to provide a unique resource that examines the preacher's unique role as shepherd and a spiritual leader. The chapters will investigate these dual roles according to the roots of the tradition and provide practical advice for priests, deacons, seminarians in homiletics classes or preaching classes, retreat leaders, RCIA catechists—all who preach. Preaching as Spiritual Leadership offers solutions to the following questions: How is preaching embedded in the Church's pastoral mission? What does it mean to be a shepherd and spiritual leader for others? How can a preacher be a spiritual leader? How can we lead others into committed discipleship through preaching? To be a shepherd and spiritual leader, the preacher must be in some sense a mystic, who is filled with the gracious presence, a presence to be shared with others. Homilists are a sacramental people, they must also be a mystagogues: ministers who can both lead the community's ritual celebration and be a People of God to plunge into the liturgy with lively faith, to touch the holy realities behind them.

Paroisse en feu Francis Manoukian 2017-03-15 Comment mettre toute une paroisse en mission ? Comment faire en sorte que la joie de l'annonce directe de l'Évangile transforme non seulement les habitudes d'une communauté paroissiale tout entière ? Ce manuel de mission paroissiale, fruit d'une longue expérience, apporte une réponse pratique à ces questions. Fruit d'une longue expérience, ce manuel est un outil précieux pour les curés qui n'ont pas le temps ou les moyens de former les fidèles à évangéliser et à construire une pastorale missionnaire dans la durée. Mais ce manuel n'est pas réservé aux curés, il se veut aussi un référentiel pour tous les paroissiens qui s'engageront aux côtés de leurs pasteurs dans l'aventure missionnaire. Paroisse en feu a pour but d'amorcer la « conversion pastorale » de hâter l'avènement de cette « Église en sortie » que le pape François appelle si ardemment de ses vœux.

For a New Generation Bob D. Kricher 2016-08-02 A New Generation Church is a church with attendees whose average age is at least as young as the average age of the community in which it exists. Any church can become a New Generation Church that reaches and continues to reach the next generation. The Psalmist writes: We will not hide these truths from our children; we will tell them about the glorious deeds of the Lord, about his power and his mighty wonders. (Psalm 78:4 NLT) No Christian would purposely hide the timeless truths of Christianity from the next generation, not because of the substance of our church, but because of the approach of our church. For A New Generation is not about changing your church's statement of faith or core beliefs. It is about changing, as needed, your church's programs, ministries and practices in order to more effectively connect with and stay connected with the next generation. Written for both church leaders and members, A New Generation presents 5 practical strategies that will lay a foundation for a church to thrive for generations to come. It is based on the assumption that accepting the status quo is the best way to ensure your church's core mission and, perhaps, to the long-term survival of your church.

Great Catholic Parishes William E. Simon 2016-09-23 What is really happening in the Catholic Church in North America? Are parishes thriving or dying? Is dissatisfaction among Catholics growing? Why are they becoming more engaged in the evangelizing mission of the Church? Businessman, professor, and philanthropist, William E. Simon Jr. has been highly influenced by the dynamic and inspiring parishes he has attended for more than 25 years. In 2012, he founded Parish Catalyst, an organization devoted to researching and supporting the health and development of Catholic parishes. Parish Catalyst looks at Simon's insights and the success stories of 244 vibrant parishes to show what makes them great. In 2012 and 2013, Simon and his team studied 244 Catholic parishes that were exceptional. The study found that all of the parishes shared four foundational practices that led to a profound sense of belonging within their parish communities and a deepening of discipleship: Share leadership by using clergy and lay staff with the best talents and skills to direct the community; Foster spiritual maturity and plan for discipleship by offering a variety of ministries and ministry opportunities to reach parishioners at differing points in their lives; Excel on Sundays by dedicating significant time, energy, and money to liturgical celebrations that parishioners can welcome intentionally evangelize by challenging insiders to look outward and providing service programs, social events, global mission opportunities, and pastoral care at key sacramental moments; focus on inviting outsiders to deeper relationship with Christ and the Church. In Great Catholic Parishes, Simon shares personal stories such as finding a welcoming parish home and what he learned evangelizing from a mission trip to Kenya. Pastors from exceptional parishes offer helpful ideas, strategic advice, and practical strategies, as well as anecdotes about lay ministry development and reworking religious education so that it is family focused and web-based. You will also learn creative solutions to familiar challenges such as spiritual stagnation among parishioners, record-keeping in the parish, allowing the pastor to focus on pastoring and preaching, and reaching youth and young adults who leave the Church in disproportionate numbers. Each chapter closes with a list of takeaways or a summary of practical challenges that will help pastors and leaders focus on growth and excellence.

A Church on the Move Joe Paprocki 2016-01-28 2017 Catholic Press Association Book Awards, Second Place: Pastoral Ministry "IF FORMER CATHOLICS WERE CONSIDERED A DENOMINATION, THEY WOULD BE THE SECOND-LARGEST DENOMINATION IN THE U.S."—from A Church on the Move Many statistics on the Catholic Church today are sobering, and the future of the Church can seem bleak. Indeed. The average parish often feels helpless to do anything that might help turn the tide and revitalize the Church. But best-selling author Joe Paprocki insists that there is good news: the Church is still here, in place, the Catholic Church—and the local parish specifically—will not only survive, but thrive. A Church on the Move offers 52 practical strategies for moving parishes forward, principally by focusing on one thing the Church can offer that the world-at-large cannot: Jesus Christ. Each chapter begins with a quote from Pope Francis, and each helpful strategy falls within one of five key categories:

on the move thinks, functions, worships, forms disciples, and engages the world. Every chapter takes an honest look at a particular problem in the Church before moving to a creative, reachable solution. A Church on the Move brings to the parish level the great themes of Pope Francis' papacy— mission, mercy, and evangelization—and replaces despair with a profound hope for the Catholic Church.

Analogies of Transcendentalism Stephen Fields 2016-05-13 This book examines nature's sacramental relation to grace. A Way with Words Adam T. Trambley 2020-04-17 A vital resource for pastors who seek to transform the culture of their church A Way with Words demonstrates the power of the weekly sermon in the culture of a congregation. Using the analogy of language learning, Adam Trambley shows how a consistent ministry focus over an eighteen-month period can help a church address areas of weakness, even as the pastor preaches on a diversity of subjects or uses a lectionary. The author explores how important focused preaching can be to moving church development forward and offers particularly helpful for pastors looking to take full advantage of the opportunities their weekly sermons provide. Each chapter includes discussion questions and practical exercises that can be used in a preaching group or seminary class, or to aid the solo pastor in preparing dynamic sermons. This is a topic not generally taught in seminary, but vital for pastors who wear many hats as preachers, caregivers, and administrative leaders.

Liturgical Catechesis in the 21st Century, Revised Edition James Pauley 2022-04-13 In Liturgical Catechesis in the 21st Century: A School of Discipleship, Dr. James Pauley explores the sacred and most essential to forming genuine disciples: the transformative encounter with God in the liturgy. Drawing upon important twentieth-century intellectual influences as well as the experience of today's foremost catechetical leaders, this book will inspire readers with a promising new vision for sacramental preparation and mystagogical catechesis, one that places maximum emphasis on drawing people into an active and fruitful sacramental life in Christ. Dr. James Pauley stresses the importance of discipleship and apprenticeship, leading from the visible to the invisible realities of life with God in the sacraments. The relationship of liturgy and catechesis is vitally important to full, conscious and active liturgical participation, and to the life of holiness and missionary responsibility that depends upon liturgy as its source. This revised edition has been updated to reflect the 2020 Directory for Catechesis.

Rebuilt Michael White 2012-02-28 Drawing on the wisdom gleaned from thriving mega-churches and innovative business leaders while anchoring their vision in the Eucharistic center of the Church, Michael White and lay associate Tom Corcoran present the compelling and inspiring story to how they brought their parish back to life. Rebuilt: Awakening the Faithful, Reaching the Lost, and Making Matter is a story of stopping everything and changing focus. When their parish reached a breaking point, White and Corcoran asked themselves how they could make the Church matter to the people. They realized the answer was at the heart of the Gospel. Their faithful response not only tripled their weekend mass attendance, but also yielded increased giving, flourishing ministries, and a vibrant Catholic spiritual revival. White and Corcoran invite all Catholic leaders to share the vision, borrow their strategies, and rebuild their own parishes. They offer a wealth of guidance for any parish leader with the courage to hear them.

Developing Disciples of Christ Lorraine Stanz 2017-10-01 St. Pope John Paul II reminds us in Catechesi Tradendae that catechesis is a moment—"a very remarkable one—in the whole process of evangelization." In other words, catechesis is an essential part of evangelization, not something separate from it. Therefore, it is critically important that catechetical leaders recognize how to catechize in a way that advances the Church's primary mission to evangelize. To that end, this third volume of The Effective Catechetical Leader will explore a Catholic understanding of evangelization grounded in Scripture and Tradition, how the New Evangelization supports and enhances today's catechesis, the inseparable nature of content and methodology in catechesis, the absolute necessity of catechesis, and so much more. The Effective Catechetical Leader series, developed in conjunction with the National Conference for Catechetical Leadership and written by some of the top experts in the country, is the only series to encompass all the various aspects of catechetical leadership. This series provides the practical skills, strategies, and approaches that ensure successful evangelization in an evangelizing manner, which leads directly to a vibrant Church. From best practices to new approaches for proclaiming God's word in a rapidly changing world, this groundbreaking series equips catechetical leaders to excel at everything from administrative duties to effectively catechizing people of all ages within our diverse Church.

Perception-based Marketing of Parishes using the example of Catholic Academics Thomas Peters 2019-04-17 The Roman Catholic Church in Germany is faced with an increasingly pluralistic and secularized society that further precipitates the decline in membership that has been ongoing already since the 1970s through instances of aging population and church leavings, and the level of locally and regionally operating parishes and their establishments a growing shortage of personnel and other resources. Here a marketing communication that is based on target group perception can be useful to remedy the situation in that the religious and social offers as well as the personal and media appearance of parishes are adjusted to population groups that can be reached. If socioeconomic potentials are able to substantially contribute to building social capital in church contexts. Particularly Catholic Academics with high affinity to the Church make their contribution. The individual, professional and financial resources available more frequently and more consistently for voluntary engagements than the majority of the German population. A group that positively contributes to the extent is that of those students and Academics who are organized in Catholic student fraternities or associations and their local institutions. A targeted involvement of this small but high-potential group in local church activities can be a substantial and existential aid for the Catholic Church in Germany and sustain its further development. This is explored and discussed on the example of a Catholic academic association in Europe (Cartel Confederation of the Catholic German Student Associations (CV), in German: Cartellverband der katholischen deutschen Studentenverbindungen), and specific practical recommendations for parish marketing. The Germany-based research results can be applied to other European countries such as Austria and Switzerland. Furthermore the results offer a broad range of new perspectives and ideas for church marketing in those countries, which have a living culture of denominational student associations.
